Break-ins for ATM theft hits business hard

The windows, walls and counter were repaired last week, but Redwater Fas Gas owner Dwayne Spicer said his business won’t recover the losses from two break-ins this year.

While insurance covered the $60,000 in damages from the two incidences, the loss of business while shut down, disruption to customers and $5,000 in deductible (two times $2,500) payments make a huge impact on a small business.

“That $5,000 is never recoverable,” said Spicer. “On top of that, he expects his insurance premiums to increase because of this.

Thieves broke into the Fas Gas at the beginning of July and again near the end of September. In September three culprits with a stolen vehicle dragged the ATM out from the back of the store, damaging the wall, knocking over the counter and equipment, and breaking a large front window. Their faces were covered, so security camera footage could not identify them.

“I was here in seven minutes and they were gone,” said Spicer. “The ATM was found, sealed open, east of Redwater. “It would have been nicer if they did it (cut open the ATM) in the store,” he added. “There wouldn’t have been the damage.”

Because he does not keep a large amount of cash in the ATM, the money the thieves got from it was less than $400.

Spicer said it is frustrating because the police and the Citizens On Patrol cannot be everywhere at once, and the consequences for criminals just aren’t there.

“The justice system is too lenient,” agreed cashier Joanne Lietz. “The court penalties need to be strengthened.”

In addition to operating his business, Spicer is a Town of Redwater councillor.

Early morning semi collision on Highway 28 results in only minor injury

One person suffered minor injuries when two semi trucks with trailers collided at the intersection of Hwy 28 and Twp 580 north of Redwater at about 4:30 a.m. on Nov. 26.

Redwater RCMP Cst Alyssa Greco reported the crash occurred in icy conditions when the trailer of the northbound semi unit swung over the center line. The southbound semi truck hit the end of that trailer and left the road. It stopped in soft ground on the west side of Hwy 28 following the highway. The driver of the southbound truck was injured and taken by ambulance to Redwater hospital as a precaution.

Five Thorhild Emergency Services members attended with three units on scene for about four hours. There was very heavy traffic during this time. Also on scene were the RCMP, ambulance and responders from the Redwater detachment of Sturgeon County Emergency Services.

A loaded semi truck and trailer are sunk into the soft ground on the west side of Hwy 28 following a Nov. 26 early morning crash at the intersection of Hwy 28 and Twp 580 north of Redwater.

A semi truck suffered serious damage and its driver received non-serious injuries in an early morning crash on Hwy 28 and Twp 580 north of Redwater Nov. 26.

Division trying to shield impact of budget shortfall from classrooms if possible

The Oct. 24 Provincial Budget included reductions to education. These reductions coupled with a significant insurance increase and a small decline in enrollment resulted in a $3 million shortfall for the 2019/2020 Sturgeon Public Schools Budget.

“The Board of Trustees have worked diligently to address the shortfall through reasoned and reasonable reductions that protect the classroom as much as possible,” states a media release from the division. “The approved budget includes the reduction of some services, the introduction of new fees for transportation and instructional materials and a drawing down of reserves.”

In approving the budget Nov. 27, Trustees fully considered the potential impact of future budgets. “Some will say that the one time transition funding that we are receiving (this fall) will ease the impact of these cuts – that is simply not the case. The potential loss of the $1.7 million one-time Transition Grant next year may mean further draconian cuts and fee increases for our families,” said Board Chair Terry Jewell in the release.

To minimize impact on students, the Division will share every available resource, limit services and increase reliance on the community, with our parents, stakeholders and community members to achieve this mid-year reduction, the division states.

Despite the challenges ahead, the Board states that it remains steadfast in their commitment to students and staff and will continue to advocate to the provincial government to ensure the students in our care receive quality rural Public Educa-

If you have extreme allergies, carrying an EpPen or similar injectable can be life-saving. One company has invented a smart case for these syringes which looks like your smartphone. An alert will sound if you are more than 30 meters away from the case. It will also remind you when the drugs are about to expire. It’s called the You Smart Case.

Up to one in four diabetics will develop a foot ulcer and about half of these will become infected. There are still good antibiotics available to treat these infections but the best action is prevention. Diabetics should check their feet on a daily basis looking for cuts, blisters and any skin abnormalities. Check the soles of their feet too. A mirror can help here.

Those who take “blood thinners” like warfarin are often told to avoid green, leafy vegetables because of their vitamin K content. Vitamin K plays a role in the clotting of the blood. Regular blood tests will decline what the warfarin dose will be and if someone eats a lot of salads on a regular basis, the dose of warfarin will be altered accordingly. The trick is to be consistent with your diet. Don’t binge.

Don’t risk your life to protect property; instead, if you encounter a crime in progress, keep yourself and your family safe while getting what information you can. That was the mes"sage Redwater RCMP Cpl. Mark Joy shared with area residents during a series of town hall meetings held throughout the detachment over the past two weeks.

One of the greatest concerns residents had was how to protect their property. Questions about what rights people have to defend their homes and families when they encounter criminals were discussed at all four town hall meetings. Essentially, residents wanted to know when it is okay to shoot thieves and trespassers.

“You can only use as much force as necessary to protect yourself and your loved ones,” Joy explained during the Nov. 21 meeting in Thorhild. “I don’t recommend you sacrifice yourself for property.”

He provided alternative actions to take if someone breaks into your place while you are home. First, make sure the criminal knows someone is home by turning on lights and making noise. Lock up the house. Avoid a confrontation. Collect information (person and vehicle descriptions, license plate number) or take pictures of the person and vehicle. Cameras set up on private property do not need to be posted to let people know they are present. Pictures and video taken by security cameras or cell phones can be used in court to convict criminals.

Joy explained that if a home owner is being threatened, only as much force as is required to protect himself and his family can be used, and the home owner will need to explain to a court the degree to which he felt threatened. “If you choose to take action using force, you’ll be held accountable, and you have to justify it,” he said. “You have to be justified and be able to articulate that. It’s a last resort.”

He explained that an attempt to detain someone who you train it to harm people.

The discussion also covered the value of Citizens On Patrol, which operates in both Thorhild County and Redwater, different apps for communication about criminal activity and stolen property and how municipal websites might be used.

Joy said police often know who the perpetrators are but need to be able to prove they did the crimes to take them to court. “They sometimes we don’t get the conviction or sentence we’d like,” he said.

Town hall meetings were held in Thorhild, Redwater, Radday and Newbrook. A total of about 120 people attended them.

The discussion moved to whether or not residents would risk their own safety to save their property.

“Meth is the worst drug on our streets,” he said,

although a small percentage of crimes are the result of meth use, and greater concern is over other drugs such as unemployment. Joy said 90 percent of the crimes are drug related, done by meth users coming during the Nov. 21 meeting in Thorhild. “I don’t recommend not attempting to detain anyone, but instead gathering information to support the police investigation so charges can be laid and a conviction obtained.

Investigation so charges can be laid and a conviction recommended not attempting to detain anyone, but to detain criminals and asked how best to do that. Joy repeated Joy.

He provided alternative actions to take if someone breaks into your place while you are home. First, make sure the criminal knows someone is home by turning on lights and making noise. Lock up the house. Avoid a confrontation. Collect information tified and be able to articulate that. It’s a last resort.”

a problem if someone comes in is good, but you could have a problem if you

Did you lose purse, cash near Redwater School?

Redwater RCMP are trying to track down the rightful owner of a purse which was found near Redwater School on Sept. 6th. The purse does not have any identification or cards inside but did include a significant amount of cash, among other items.

Authorities are asking the purse’s owner to come to the Redwater RCMP detachment to claim it; however, they advise they will only turn it over to someone who can prove it belongs to them.

A description of the purse, along with the amount of money, in which denominations, as well as the other items in the purse will be required.

Anyone with information on the owner, or anyone looking to claim the purse can contact Cst. Alyssa Greco at 780-942-3607.
