Zack Mazurenko of Thorhild wears his Alberta Winter Games gold medal, hockey jersey and toque.

Mazurenko wins Winter Games gold

Redwater Rush Baptism defender Zack Mazurenko won PeeWee gold with the Zone 7 U13 team at the Alberta Winter Games Feb. 17.

He earned 12 assists during the five games his team played at that tournament. He played with and against many old friends, but that wasn’t the best part.

“The best part is meeting new people,” said Mazurenko.

Over the years he has done a lot of that. He began skating at two years old and, when old enough, moved up through the Minor Hockey program. He played with Thorhild and Redwater teams and some years with the AA team out of Fort Saskatchewan. This year, although still PeeWee age, he is playing with the Redwater Bantams.

To make the Winter Games team Mazurenko attended tryouts in early December. Competing for spots on the Zone 7 team were 200 young players. Mazurenko worked for his placing but credits Winter Games coach T.J. Miller with much of his success there.

“He inspired me to do everything I could,” said Mazurenko.

On Feb. 22 Mazurenko’s Bantam team began provincial playoffs in Redwater against the team from Battle River. This summer he intends to play with the Western Prospects.

When not busy with school and hockey, Mazurenko enjoys snowmobiling and rodeos.

Midget Rush focus on team play is paying off

Casey King (L-R) watches as his son, Hunter, and his friend Mikey Steele play giant Jenga at the Feb. 17 Redwater Family Day activities.

The Redwater Rush Midget hockey team wrapped up their regular season games on Feb. 14 and 15. Play-offs start the weekend of Feb. 22.

Going into these last two games the team held a record on Feb. 13 of 10 wins, eight losses and six ties.

“We’ve had a good season,” said head coach Collin McRae.

“They work hard; they have good attendance. The boys have worked very diligently on team play this year.”

“That’s what you need to do,” McRae said. “They’re committed to the team.”

At 19, this is the largest team he has coached in his six years as the Midgets’ player. The players come from four communities around Redwater and include his son, Colton, and nephews Ethan and Aidan McRae and Zeth Pawlik.

“I have fun with it every year,” McRae said. “I enjoy it.”

Midget team members are Marc Beckett, Dylan Wilkins, Aidan McRae, Clark Kolyhos, Aiden Kubica, Colton McRae, Zeth Pawlik, Hunter Neufeld, Kate Williams, Ethan McRae, Cache Kemp, Dowest Martineau, Erin Norden, Michael Beckett, Zachary Young, Ethan Diogo, Carson Hieyer, Dylan Goulet and Aidan McRae.

Working with coach McRae are assistants Mike Beden and Jordan Mazurenko and team manager Lance Pawlik.

School club designs outdoor classroom

Thorhild Central School (TCS) Lego Club members Clayton Alyward, Ryne Semeniuk, Amber Barto and teacher Anthony Price with their presentation on the club’s Outdoor Classroom Project.

The Thorhild Central School Lego Club members are enthusiastic about the opportunity to see the outdoor classroom they designed for the Lego League competition actually get built. The Lego Club competition has three aspects: core values, a community improvement project, and the Lego Games in which each team must build a robot and have it complete a set of tasks.

The TCS Club members are Amber Barto, Carter Rosenberger, Blake Kuefler, Clayton Alyward, Caleb Lepa, Ryne Semeniuk and Dillon Howard. They are led by teachers Anthony Price and Justin Gross.

“The theme this year is City Shaper, to improve a public place in the community,” explained Barto. They chose the outdoor classroom as their community improvement project.

“I like being able to have time to spend with friends and work on a project,” said Kuefler. “And I really like programming.”

The club enlisted the assistance of community members with architectural training—Braden Gray and Troy Vetsch—to help design the multi-phase outdoor learning space. Shell Canada contributed a $10,000 grant with which to build the outdoor classroom.

Phase One will be a classroom with desks. There will also be an outdoor pavilion, garden planters, a greenhouse zone and a campfire area. The students call that last space Price’s area because he also teaches Outdoor Education. They hope to present their project to Shell Canada representatives.

Club members spent months preparing for the Lego Club competition in Calgary Feb. 22. They learned and worked within the Lego League core values: discovery, innovation, impact, inclusion, teamwork and fun. They also studied programming, writing computer code, and construction (built a bridge out of spaghetti and masking tape).

“I really like our core values section,” said Carter Rosenberger.

“First is to have fun,” added Barto. “We’re learning how to program and work together to solve problems. It’s teaching us quite a bit of life lessons.”

This is the third year TCS operated a Lego Club, which is for grades seven to nine. Some members have participated all three years, others are in their first or second year. Because all are in grade nine, if they choose to continue with this type of club, they will be in the high school First Technology League next year. That would require them to build a much more complicated robot.

“I hope they’ll want to compete with the different technology in high school,” said Price. “STEM — science, technology, engineering and math — will be the base of every job. I really push them because I think it’s an important set of skills for them when they graduate.”

“The reason I support this program so strongly is the world is going to be technologically based when they enter the work force,” said Price. “STEM — science, technology, engineering and math — will be the base of every job. I really push them because I think it’s an important set of skills for them when they graduate.”

Redwater skeptical of proposal to merge towns with County

Redwater council gave a cool reception to a proposal to unify Sturgeon County and the five urban municipalities within it into one large specialized municipality.

During the Feb. 18 Redwater council meeting Simon Boersma, accompanied by Dwayne Gibbs and Jacob Middelkamp, presented a vision of one regional municipality which would reduce the numbers of elected representatives and municipal staff while more evenly distributing the industrial tax revenue being collected by Sturgeon County.

“Our current system of Municipal Governance in the Sturgeon region was developed 100 years ago and no longer applies to a modern society with today’s technology,” said Boersma.

He pointed out the region’s 38,500 residents are now governed by 38 mayors and councillors and served by six municipal CAOs, and estimated that “antiquated system” annually wastes $6 to $10 million.

Boersma predicted that when the Sturgeon Refinery and the Pembina/Kuwait polypropylene facility become fully operational they will pay a total of $57 million in taxes each year to Sturgeon County. He said if the region becomes one municipality, the benefits of that tax revenue would be shared among all area residents.

Regarding concerns some residents might have about such a unification/amalgamation causing community members to lose their individuality and character, Boersma said that he was not concerned about Strathcona and Wood Buffalo, where regional governance is already in place.

“We would like you, mayor and council, to hold a town hall meeting to share this information with your residents,” said Boersma.

Coun. Rob Olson said there is no guarantee a regional municipality would invest in Redwater: “They might want to tear down Pembina Place or fill in our swimming pool,” he said, adding that Sturgeon County is reluctant to spend its industrial tax revenue to support Redwater programs and facilities used by county residents.

“We get peanuts, not even peanuts, peanut dust,” Olson declared. “We see everything going west.”

Mayor Mel Smith expanded on that, saying 40 per cent of the town’s recreational facility usage is by county residents, and the county does not support that usage. He said when this proposal was discussed at a recent mayors’ meeting the costs to manage multiple municipalities was closer to $3.5 million than Boersma’s estimated $6 to $10 million.

Gibbs noted that when forming the new municipality it could be specified what the former towns would receive.

Coun. Connie Butcher said such regionalization is not working well where it was done in many eastern Canada areas.

“We’re not against saving money,” commented coun. Dwayne Spencer. “We just want to look out for our residents.”

Boersma did not pass a resolution to hold an open house on this subject. Earlier Sturgeon County also took no action on the citizen presentation.

Letter to the editor;

I agree that distracted driving is a serious concern. People think they can multitask but reality shows that they can’t. We’re only human.

What worries me is that amateur radio operators could be penalized for using a mobile radio in their cars. Amateurs, also called hams, perform many public service tasks, especially during emergencies. Preventing hams from relaying emergency information while driving would cause potentially life-threatening delays.

We usually have cell phones to report such things but when an emergency happens, the system becomes overloaded. This is why amateurs are so vital during crises. The radios never become congested and information can be relayed without a busy signal.

Bruce Atchison VE6 XTC

ACCEL Canada Holdings Limited – PROJECT NOTIFICATION LETTER
License Amendment (C321) F21501
RE: New Emissions and Equipment
Location: SE-29-057-21W4M

Pursuant to the Alberta Energy Regulator (AER) Directive 056: Energy Development Applications and Schedules, ACCEL Canada Holdings Limited (ACCEL) herein gives notice for a proposed amendment to an existing facility (license F21501). ACCEL proposes to add an incinerator (or the "Project").

(1) Applicant Information and Contact Information:
- Company Name: ACCEL Canada Holdings Limited
- Address: Suite 400, 222 3rd Avenue S.W., Calgary, AB T2P 0B4
- Contact Name: Cal Nurmi, Senior Regulatory Advisor
- Tel. Number: (403) 300-0239
- Fax number: (403) 300-0220
- Email: cnurmi@accelenergyltd.com
- Emergency Contact No: 1-855-406-1258

(2) Application Consultation and notification requirements:
- Amendment to facility: Redwater Gas Conservation Plant
- Licence Number: F21501
- Facility License Category/Type: C321 - Oil Battery Multi Well

(3) Location of Proposed Project:
- Redwater Gas Conservation Plant (RGCP), SE-29-057-21W4M, east of the town of Redwater, AB.

(4) Description (category/type) of the proposed project:
ACCEL is proposing to add one (1) gas-fired incinerator to combust vapours associated with the RGCP. If approved, the Project equipment will produce emissions to atmosphere, and as such, the F21501 facility licence needs to be amended to reflect the new emission source and the associated infrastructure. The F21501 AER licence is a category/type C321- oil battery multi well. The installation of the incinerator will not change the category/type.

(5) Need for the proposed development and explanation of how it fits with existing and future plans:
ACCEL is the operator of the RGCP. ACCEL utilizes tanker trucks to transport produced oil from the RGCP for sale to market. Due to the oil loading process associated with trucking, tanker vapours are released. To mitigate this issue, ACCEL proposes to install a natural-gas fired incinerator. Vapours will be diverted to the incinerator and the residual gases will be released post-combustion.

(6) Type of substance(s) that will be processed, transported or drilled for:
- No change. There is no proposed change to the substances processed or transported at the existing battery. Drilling is not being performed.

(7) Presence of Hg and associated setbacks:
As per the AER's Directives 056 and 071, the setback for the RGCP based on the estimated H/S release volume for the inlet oil group line is Level 2 (EPZ of 0.12 km). Based on this setback level, the facility shall be 0.5 km from public residences and 0.5 km from urban centres or public facilities. Currently no public land uses are within the setback distance to the facility and the facility is greater than 0.5 km from non-industrial zoned areas within the Town of Redwater.

(8) Potential Restriction Regarding Development of Adjacent Lands:
Restrictions on development of adjacent lands to the facility are as defined in AER Directive 056 and AER Directive 071, however, these are not changed based on the scope of the Project.

(9) Equipment to be Added to Facility:
- One (1) natural gas-fired incinerator
- Piping and control equipment
- Vessels

(10) Flaring, incineration and venting:
The Project proposes non-continuous incineration. Incineration would be intermittent and would be dependent on the frequency of tanker loading.

(11) Source Emissions and Odours:
- Odours: The incinerator, as proposed, is intended to mitigate odours that would be a result of vapour release from the tanker loading operations. Recognizing sources of odours will continue to be short-term and may originate from heavy-duty diesel vehicles and light-duty gasoline vehicles, as part of normal day-to-day operations.
- Emissions: Sulphur dioxide (SO2) and Nitrogen dioxide (NO2) will be emitted from the incinerator. Emissions will be compliant with regulations including the Alberta Ambient Air Quality Objectives (AAAQO).

(12) Construction schedule:
- Construction & Commissioning: Q1 2020 – Q2 2020
- Completion: Q1 2020 – Q2 2020

(13) Traffic:
- During the construction/commissioning period there will be a temporary increase in vehicle traffic in the area. Traffic may include pickups, tractor-trailers, and associated construction equipment.

(14) Noise:
- The addition of the Project will add to the overall noise profile of the RGCP. ACCEL is currently conducting a noise impact analysis. Should noise mitigation be required, ACCEL will implement as required to meet the requirements of AER Directive 038: Noise Control. No pumps or compressors are being added as part of the Project scope.

(15) Emergency Response Plan and Emergency Planning Zone:
A Site-Specific Emergency Response Plan is in place for the Redwater operations as there are residences within the EPZ of many area pipelines. The Site-Specific ERP does include the Redwater Gas Conservation Plant. There is no change to the existing plant EPZ due to the proposed Project and there are no residents within the existing EPZ.

(16) AER public information documents:
The AER has several public information documents that are available at the AER website www.acer.ca, under the "Providing Information" > "News and Resources" > "EnergAgs and Fact Sheets" tab. A copy of these documents is available upon request.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding the Project information provided, please contact ACCEL by March 5th, 2020. Contact information is provided in above Section (1).

AER Directive 056 specifies that stakeholders receive a period of 14 days to review a notice before the application is filed. ACCEL has the option to file the application prior to the 14-day notice period and may do so at its discretion. The application, once filed, will be posted for 30 days on the AER's website as part of the Public Notice of Application.

The AER application process is a public process, and all documents filed with the AER will be placed on the public record unless otherwise authorized by the AER in accordance with section 49 of the AER Rules of Practice and Responsible Energy Development Act.
