91 acre industrial development being proposed in Redwater

A 91 acre industrial development is proposed north of the existing industrial park on the east side of Redwater.

During the June 4 council meeting town manager Deb Hamilton reported an Area Structure Plan (ASP) had been submitted to the town for the proposed development. It will be reviewed by the town’s engineer and the town’s contract planner before being presented, with recommendations, to council.

Administration and the proposer are presently discussing servicing, which needs to be included in the ASP for it to be complete. No further details were made public.

Ride for Hunger brings in $10,000 and stocks Food Bank shelves

The June 2 Redwater Ride For Hunger raised about $10,000 and 300 ibs of food for the food bank and raised the spirits of many community members. The donations go a long way in covering the food bank’s shortfall of donations at the end of December 2018.

“It was awesome,” said Redwater Fellowship of Churches Food Bank president Mechtild Brennen. “It was just amazing how everything came together, the weather and all the volunteers. The ride was a huge success to the food bank. We raised about $10,000 which is enormous and great, after not having it for six years.” She said the organizing committee could not have done it without so many volunteers and the support of so many community organizations.

“It was a fabulous renewal of this event,” said Ride co-ordinator Lisa Dukas. “I want to thank all the riders for coming back and the community and everybody in town who showed up and made this happen.”

She estimated close to 200 bikes participated in all or part of the event which attracted hundreds of spectators. This year’s 12th annual ride honored Audrey McIssac, a charter member of the food bank and one of the original Ride For Hunger committee members. She passed away in 2018.

Dukas said that for her, a highlight of the day was having McIssac’s family present to hear the dedication of the Audrey McIssac Memorial. One More Can of Beans poker run and to speak about her.

Dukas said another highlight was when a couple of bikers assisted a girl with Cerebral Palsy to sit on their bikes and revved the engines for her.

“It just made her day,” Dukas said. “The biker community is just so good to people.”

“It was nice to see all the people out,” said deputy mayor Rob Olsen.

Brennen said there are still a few expenses to be deducted from the $18,000 in ride donations, but sponsors coming forward to help get the Ride started ensured that the Redwater Fellowship of Churches Food Bank did not need to use its own funds as seed money.

“It was pretty awesome,” said Brennen. “The weather was great, and we had the support and help of so many other volunteers: volunteers from the Ride Organization, Chamber of Commerce, volunteers from in and around Redwater, Lions Club, Town of Redwater employees, town council, companies and businesses, Redwater Agricultural Society, sponsors, supporters, donors of prizes, Youth Pasture Nests and the youth and additives from the Alliance Church, the band, singer and DJ who entertained with a great variety of music, CBC who had turned on their block heater plug-ins so we could run the freezer, and our own Food Bank volunteers. Connie Butcher as always was a great MC. It was a great town event with the food bank benefiting.”

Brennen said the support of the riders coming to town who brought food and cash donations for the food bank, purchased Poker Rally tickets, prize raffle tickets and 50-50 tickets was amazing.

“We so appreciated the riders making the trek out to Redwater to support the Redwater Fellowship of Churches Food Bank, coming out all this way to celebrate the come-back of the 12th annual Ride for Hunger,” said Brennen. “I really hope they all had as enjoyable a day as we did.”

It was also great to see so many local residents walk around admiring the various bikes showing off their bike paraphernalia, vendors and Farmers’ Market, support the Lion’s barbecue with all proceeds going to the food bank, and entering the raffle price draws.

The 13th annual Redwater Ride For Hunger will be held June 7, 2020. The Ride for Hunger was held from 2003 to 2013 during which it annually brought 1,500 to 2,000 people into town. It was revived this year and organizers plan to continue to hold it the first Sunday in June.

Food bank usage increased 30 percent per year for the past few years. In 2018 the Redwater food bank distributed 560 hampers, more than triple the 160 given out in 2013.

The Redwater food bank serves the Redwater area and Thorhild County plus a few clients outside of those areas.
Seeds to Sprouts Childcare Society successfully hosted its first community fundraiser June 2, a Steak Supper at the Thorhild Legion. “The Society would like to thank all those who attended, volunteered and made donations and the Co-op for supporting the event,” said president Kelly Feledichuk. “The money raised will help our society continue to move forward with our Thorhild Daycare initiative.” In the photo are society board members Candice Guerny (L-R), Krista Hawrelko, Brandy Hasiuk and Feledichuk.

Redwater floral custodian Charity Melnick (on ground) assists Brad Thomas with Fortis Alberta in putting up the town’s hanging flower baskets June 5. Fortis donated an operator and truck with a lift to assist with the baskets because the town’s truck was out for repairs. “The Fortis operators were fantastic to work with and very efficient,” Melnick said. “Without their help we would not have been able to get our flower baskets up this early given the circumstance. We are very appreciative of this support.”

“Fortis came to our rescue and generously donated the truck and operators,” said Community Services manager Jodi Brown. “Our staff worked with the Fortis team yesterday to hang our floral baskets. We are very grateful to Fortis for helping us to beautify our community and save our flowers from wilting in storage.”

Fortis Stakeholder Relations manager Dor L’Heureux said, “When the Town of Redwater called Fortis looking for assistance because their boom truck was unfortunately out of service; we were happy that we were able to assist. Our goal is to be valued by our customers, our employees and by the communities in which they live and work.”

If you park your car on your lawn you can now get your ticket

Parking on a lawn or other non-hard surface that is not a driveway or parking stall is now prohibited in Redwater.

During the June 4 council meeting town manager Deb Hamilton said members of the public have complained on ways to stop parking in front yards and they have been discussed by council. “Currently, there are no specific regulations in the Community Standards Bylaw regulating this,” said Hamilton.

The amendments proposed by administration included adding definitions of vehicle and parking space to the bylaw and adding a clause regarding parking. It states that “at no time shall a vehicle be parked or stored in the front yard of a property wholly or partially on turf, lawn, dirt, gravel or other non-hard surfaced areas.” Vehicles are to be parked on driveways or parking stalls.

The penalty for breach of that parking regulation ranges from $100 for a first offence to $250 for a second violation.

Council passed all three readings of the amended Community Standards Bylaw June 4.

Students excited to get close-up look at Griffin helicopter

Redwater School students were excited to have a Griffin helicopter from 408 Helicopter Squadron touch down at the school June 5. As observers stood behind the ball diamond fence, the chopper’s rotors blew up a dust storm from the infield and the track. The five member crew consisted of pilots Cpt. Mitch Binding and Cpt. Erik Evans, flight engineers Mcep. Victor Frank and Cpl. Catch Muldman, and door gunner Cpt. Taylor Cote.

Binding gave a brief presentation about the helicopter, then the crew answered questions from students.

The Griffin helicopter is used for tactical aviation. During peace keeping missions and on other international assignments it is usually used to transport troops, dignitaries or supplies. Within Canada it is used for domestic operations when the military assists communities facing disasters such as floods or fires.

The Griffin has a 46’ rotor span and travels at 240 km/hour, about 2.5 times faster than a vehicle on a highway. It took the crew 15 minutes to go from the Canadian Forces Base at Namao to Redwater.

Students were allowed to enter the helicopter, get a close-up look at its structure and equipment, and ask the crew members questions.

Maisy Kidd received the first slice of watermelon at the June 1 Egremont parade. Egremont Hotel (The Watermelon Patch) owners Colleen and Graham Waterman have a tradition of handing out fresh watermelon to parade watchers and participants.

A home in Newbrook was damaged, but no one was hurt during a June 1 basement fire.

Owner Pat Sullivan said the residents who rent his house in Newbrook were home and noticed smoke coming from the basement shortly after noon.

“The fire department showed up and they did a really, really good job,” said Sullivan. “They were well organized and knew what they were doing.” There was damage to the basement of the home.

Thorhild County Emergency and Protective Services manager Chyenne Shaw said eight county volunteers and a Community Peace Officer attended the scene and were there for about two hours. The cause of the fire appeared to be accidental.

Market opens in Redwater

The Redwater Farmers’ Market opened for the season June 4 with vendor tables, a coffee and visiting area and a Lego table for children to play at.

“We have 17 registered vendors this year,” said Redwater & District Agricultural Society volunteer Mary Ann Reed. “Some will not be here every weekend.” The fresh produce vendor will miss the first few markets because the produce is not ready. That vendor should be at the market starting in mid to late June.

Vendors include produce, sewing, garden decor, tanning, jerky, baking, preserves, gluten free food, Ukrainian food, handicrafts, greenhouse plants and metal work. There are also commercial vendors such as Tupperware, jewellery, dog food and skin care products.

“Everyone’s welcome to come shop or sit and visit over coffee,” said Reed.

Redwater & District Agricultural Society runs the market from June 4 to Sept. 1. Redwater 4-H members volunteer to assist vendors and help with clean up after the market.

Farms may be allowed more dogs by Smoky Lake

Smoky Lake County is considering allowing some rural residents to have up to five dogs and to cut the County Dog Shelter fee in half. Residents are invited to comment on the draft amendments to the county’s dog control bylaw.

The changes would see the number of dogs allowed to reside or remain at a county residence increased from two to five at residences on more than 10 acres. For residences in hamlets or country residential developments the number of dogs allowed remains at two.

The County Dog Shelter fee is proposed to decrease from $20/day to $10/day. Another proposed change is to the definition of off-leash, increasing the age of dependent puppies from three months to six months.

Council passed first reading of the amended Regulation and Confinedment of Dogs bylaw, without discussion, May 23.

Reeve Craig Lukinuk later explained the reasons for changing the number of allowed dogs, saying that if two dogs are the limit in the bylaw, residents need to request a permit to have more than two and if the county needs to be prepared to enforce the bylaw in cases where more than two are kept without a permit. Also, some county residents had expressed concern about having only two dogs.

“On a farm with many acres, for the size of the parcel, two dogs is not enough,” Lukinuk said. “This is more effective than having them come in for a permit.”

Thorhild County replaced the playground and campsite slopes at Half Moon Lake park. A new floating dock is also installed. The upgrades cost about $40,000.
