Hiemer captains Team North America at Tretiak’s hockey tourney in Russia

Evan Hiemer, a farm boy from north of Opal, was one of five Canadian hockey players on One Hockey’s Team North America competing in Russia this summer. His team was one of 16 at Vladislav Tretiak’s annual international hockey tournament for national teams consisting of 13 year old players.

At the tournament Evan captained his team, was named a tournament All Star and was Player of the Game in their game against Finland. In the game against Sweden he scored the goal that tied the game at six, and then his team won. Team North America placed fifth overall after a round-robin loss by shoot-out against the team that won silver.

“I liked it,” he said. “I got to meet Mr. Tretiak and talk with the Russian players. My goalie could speak Russian.” He is staying in touch with friends from his team and other teams.

Evan plays center. “I just like the freedom on the ice,” he said.

“And you’re a checker,” said his father, Dean. “You use the body a lot.”

Tretiak asked participating teams to bring donations for youngsters who could not afford to play hockey. “Most kids brought gear,” Dean said. “We took one complete set.”

While in Moscow they toured Red Square and touring all the churches,” said Evan. “I’d recommend going. That plan changed when they learned how expensive the trip was, and only Dean went with Evan.

Team North America coach Sebastien Forrier invited Evan to join the team to go to a tournament in Stockholm, Sweden, next year. Nicole will travel with him then. She jokes that they won’t miss the flight home from there.

The worst part of Dean and Evan’s trip to Russia was missing their flight out of Moscow. They were travelling with another player and parent, and the delay resulted in the four of them still being in Russia when their visas expired. That meant a dash to the Canadian Embassy for new visas (good for three days), then back to the airport to make sure they got a flight out of the country before their 72 hours expired.

Evan’s road to Russia began in Thorhild when he joined hockey at three years old. He did consider quitting when he was four or five, but had good coaches and decided to stick with the game, playing in Thorhild and then with a Redwater team.

Four years ago he joined Team Revolution in Edmonton which plays in the Hockey Super League. That ended his time with Minor Hockey because players are not allowed to be in two leagues at the same time. Evan’s Revolution coach, Jim Pickford, encouraged him to participate in year round hockey and to train hard: 10 to 12 hours a day on weekends in Millen.

To be eligible for selection to Team North America, he had to play in Revolution’s spring season. In addition to that, he went to the North American AAA Classic tournament in Winnipeg, where he was scouted and picked up to join the United Elite. Then he went with Rise Wolfpack out of Ontario to the Chowder Cup in Boston. “I met Mike Eruzione,” Evan said. “He was captain of the 1980 U.S. Olympic Team and scored the winning goal against Russia. Tretiak was in goal.” He got to tour around Boston a bit and was very impressed with the incredible training facility at Boston University.

Back at home, he continued with regular training and prepared for Tretiak’s tournament. “I ran six miles every night,” Evan said. “I went to bed at 5:00 and got up at 3:00. Ahead of time to lessen the jet lag.”

Evan is working towards making it into college hockey in the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division 1. He will need excellent hockey skills and graduate high school with at least an 80 percent average. Coach Pickford is now with the Spruce Grove Saints, so Evan will go there to play this season. When not on the ice or off, Evan enjoys sledding, especially in the mountains, hunting and playing other sports. “I like all sports,” he said. “I work them in around hockey.”

Hockey is a family commitment. Team Revolution did not have an age group for Carson; he plays Midget hockey in Redwater. As long as their boys are dedicated to the sport, Nicole and Dean are committed to supporting them and taking them where they need to go.

“They’ve got to want to do it for us to commit to the driving,” said Dean.

Initial numbers slightly down in most schools

Student enrollment is up in only one area school this year.

The number of students is critical to school funding because much of the provincial funding is per student based. Official enrollment numbers as of Sept. 30 are used by the province for calculating how much money schools and school divisions receive.

The three Aspen View Public Schools serving this area all have Kindergarten to grade 12 students. H.A. Kostash School in Smoky Lake principal Dick Richards said the preliminary enrollment is 324 students, slightly more than the 316 expected this fall. This is the third consecutive year HAK student numbers increased since hitting a low of 307 in September 2016.

Thorhild Central School (TCS) has a few more students than its expected 289 for this fall. Last week principal Kim Carson reported 293 students registered in Kindergarten to grade 12.

“September 30 is always the magic date for enrollment counts for schools across the province,” Carson said. Last year TCS had 299 students, up from 293 in September 2017. In 2016 TCS had 318 students.

Vilna School principal Diane Padlesky reported they expected just over 200 students for this year. Enrollment last week was very close to that.

“It changes daily this time of year,” Padlesky said. Vilna had 215 students last year, up from 208 the year before. In 2016 Vilna’s enrollment was 221.

Holy Family Catholic School in Waskatenau, which belongs to the Lake- land Roman Catholic School Division, also serves Kindergarten to grade 12. Principal Farrah Ollikka reported enrollment was at 93 last week, which is right around the number of students they expected. Holy Family had 95 students last year and 84 in 2017.

Preliminary enrollment numbers were not available for Redwater School and Ochre Park School in Redwater as Sturgeon Public School Division will not release them until later this week.

Last year Ochre Park had 205 students (up from 177 in 2017) in Kindergarten to grade four. Redwater School, which serves grades five to 12, had 249 students last year and 246 in 2017.

Replacing the two commercial stoves in the Thorhild Legion Hall led to a complex $65,000 renovation. It will be done this fall when Legion members finish getting all the parts and tradesmen lined up. The existing stoves were purchased used more than 30 years ago. They are being replaced with two new commercial gas stoves, each of which costs about $4,000. Last week DDC Sand, Gravel & Concrete, on behalf of Dale Crosswell, donated $5,000 for the stoves, ensuring the Legion has sufficient funds to purchase them.

Legion president Brian Barnes said, “It’s very much appreciated.” “It’s good to support organizations within our community,” said DDC Office Administrator Melissa Olah. “I grew up coming here, and it’s nice to give back to the community.” “We all have some family members who served in wars,” added Deb Crosswell. Royal Canadian Legion Thorhild Branch 234 members have been raising funds for this kitchen upgrade for several years because when the new stoves are installed, they will need new overhead hoods and air units. While the ceiling and roof are taken apart to install those, repairs to them will be done and new electrical wiring put in.

Royal Canadian Legion Thorhild Branch 234 Service Officer Charlie Moell (L-R) and president Brian Barnes smile as they receive a $5,900 donation from Office Administrator Melissa Olah and Deb Crosswell from DDC Sand, Gravel & Concrete on behalf of Dale Crosswell. The funds cover most of the $8,000 needed for the two new stoves being purchased for the Legion Hall kitchen.

The Capital Region Northeast Water Service Commission (CRNWSC) is replacing four (4) individual sections of the regional water transmission main. This is to accommodate waterline replacement underneath the widening of Highway 15 immediately west of the City of Fort Saskatchewan. This means that the primary water supply for Thorhild County will be reduced and Thorhild County will be required to draw their water supply from municipal water reservoirs.

Due to changes in the construction needs Thorhild County will be downgrading the water restriction from a Demand C to a Demand B. Thorhild County will put into effect the Demand B Water Restriction for the following time frames:

- September 16 – 19, 2019
- September 23– 26, 2019

With the Demand B Water Thorhild County requests the discontinuation of the following during the time frames:

- Watering lawns, gardens or trees
- Washing driveways and sidewalks
- Filling pools and fountains
- Water main or hydrant flushing
- Street sweeping
- Spray decks (unless using recirculated water)
- Construction activities
- Firefighting training
- Vehicle washing (including buses)
- Other non-essential use (all water not used for human consumption)

All Thorhild County Regional Truck Fills (Thorhild, Newbrook, Egremont, Abee, Radway) will be OPEN for RESIDENTIAL USE ONLY during each planned shutdown. If you have any questions, please call the Utilities Department at (780) 398-3741 or (780) 398-3939 after hours.

Harvest Season Safety Tips
Harvest season is upon us and farmers are back on the roads and in the fields. This means an increase in slow-moving equipment on rural roads, which can be hazardous. Be safe out there and share the road.

Farmers - please remember to:
• Avoid high traffic times and busy roads.
• Make sure all flashers and lights are clean, visible and working properly.
• Stay alert for hazards such as soft shoulders, narrow bridges, loose gravel, and deep ruts.
• Pull over to allow traffic to pass if conditions are safe.

Motorists - please remember to:
• Be aware of slow-moving farm machinery. Be patient.
• Watch for vehicles marked with slow-moving vehicle signs.
• Do not drive in equipment blind spots where operators cannot see you.
• Keep back a safe distance - at least
  50 feet - when following.

Redwater Citizens on Patrol get vehicle, funding support

Redwater Citizens On Patrol Association (COPA) members began active patrols in June of this year. Their efforts to prevent crime were supported by generous donations from local businesses last week.

“The Redwater Citizens On Patrol would like to acknowledge the following companies for their gracious donations,” said secretary Sophie Smith. “All of these donations are sincerely appreciated.”

ACCEL Energy donated a truck for use on patrols, and Christie Condon with Triple C Safety donated a First Aid Kit and a Travel Safety Kit for the patrol truck. Redwater Tim Hortons donated $2,500 and North West Redwater Partnership donated $4,756 from its Sturgeon Refinery’s annual Staff Giving. Reasons needed for not easing road restrictions

Letter to the editor,

On Aug 27 I went as a delegation at the Thorhild County council meeting asking them to change the Road Use Bylaw. The room was filled with representation from board members from local businesses, farmers and residents. All in support of changing the bylaw.

I cannot understand why they had/have voted as they did. There were only 4 councillors at the meeting. Croswell, Pierce, Filipchuk and Pasay. I presented my facts and asked questions of the council. These questions remain unanswered still. Croswell, Pierce, Filipchuk and Pasay.

After Croswell made the motion, Pasay asked to make a friendly amendment to the motion. And then to top it all off voted against it.

These two councillors that voted against it, Filipchuk and Pasay still gave no solid reason why not to change the bylaw. Croswell, Pierce, Filipchuk and Pasay.

Croswell and Pasay still gave no solid reason why not to change the bylaw. Filipchuk had even asked for some more information yet voted against without giving a reason.

No matter what was offered to them as a solution they could not give a reason why. This seems to me that there is something else making them so stubborn about changing this bylaw. Their minds were definitely made up on how they were going to vote before they even did my presentation at the council meeting. I come up with no reason why not to change the bylaw.

I have yet to speak to anyone who disagrees with changing the bylaw but perhaps these councillors need to hear from their residents who voted them in as to how they feel.

Reeve stands by Road Use Bylaw

Thorhild County Reeve Kevin Grumetza feels council is doing the right thing for county residents by not granting exceptions to its Road Use Bylaw, but he said if an amendment is proposed that will “work for everyone,” council would consider it.

Regarding a request by Dale Croswell of DDC Sand, Gravel and Concrete to amend the bylaw to allow local businesses to through-haul on municipal roads (the bylaw restricts to provincial highways heavy traffic not originating in or delivering to a location in the county), Grumetza said opening up municipal roads to that kind of traffic is not a solution.

“A bylaw should have no loopholes in it,” he said. “This bylaw is really clean, plain and simple. Does every bylaw work for everybody? No. We have a responsibility to all the stakeholders in the county, not just one individual.”

Regarding granting an exception to one company or individual or an exception for one municipal road, Grumetza said, “I don’t like exceptions. If you make exceptions for one, you have to make exceptions for everyone. It doesn’t matter how many trucks you have, or acres of land you farm or how many head of cattle you have; what council needs to do is treat everybody as fairly as possible.”

Asked if council has talked about options such as an exemption to grant a road use permit (under which the user would cover road maintenance costs) to through-haul on municipal roads in order to get to a numbered highway or granting exemptions with road maintenance agreements, Grumetza said no. He feels if people believe the bylaw should be changed, they should propose a solution to council that will work for everyone. “We need to work together in order to come to up with something,” he said.

In response to a comment by Dale Croswell that Hwy 827 is too rough, Grumetza that is something that should be taken up with the local MLA, Glenn vanDijken.

In a tie vote Aug. 27 (Grumetza was absent), council defeated a request by Dale Croswell of DDC Sand, Gravel and Concrete to amend the bylaw to allow local businesses to through-haul on municipal roads to that kind of traffic is not a solution. Council defeated coun. Wayne Croswell’s motion to have the council Administration draft a Road Use Bylaw amendment.
